March 12, 2010

Hello everyone,

I have an exciting announcement for all FFA and 4-H members. The UGA Block & Bridle Club is proud to announce that we are bringing the Great Southland Stampede Rodeo back home to Athens. We will be hosting the GSSR at the Animal and Dairy Science Livestock Instructional Arena on S. Milledge Ave., and we would like to give you and your chapters an opportunity to share in our success. We dedicate Thursday night to both the 4-H and FFA. This special night will honor two of the most important and deserving organizations in our country today: Agricultural Education and Extension.

How will we do this? We are extending you an opportunity to purchase advance tickets to Thursday night's performance on April 15th at $10 ea. advance tickets for the general public are $12 and they will be $15 at the gate. You may purchase as many as you like, and we would love to see you at the show. Also, remember the value of your ticket is $12 so feel free to resell them at a two dollar profit for your chapter. Fill out the attached form and return it to the address on the form by April 1st to ensure your seats.

Also, on Thursday, April 15th, we will be celebrating being students and being a part of the University of Georgia. Thursday night, we are asking the UGA campus and surrounding communities if they are "Tough Enough to be a DAWG?" In order to bring you the full UGA experience we have asked many familiar faces around campus to come out to enjoy the show. You can expect to see the UGA Dance Dawgs, Miss UGA, and many others. Remember to wear in your red and black!

Thank you for taking time to read and entertain this idea. We hope you will all come and enjoy the show as we honor Agricultural Education and Extension, and extend our support to those suffering from breast cancer. The Great Southland Stampede is the first student operated PRCA Rodeo in the world, and it is still a huge undertaking I hope your students will enjoy it!

Sincerely,

Ashley Buford
